

Skokie History and Culture Hunt

Get moving and find some cool spots along the way. Use the clues to find these historical or cultural sites in Skokie. Extra hints are underlined and in bold.

- Celebrate our national heroes by visiting one of three memorials in Skokie celebrating our local servicemen and women, past or present.
- Flying in the sky, on the edge of town, these flags commemorate the cultures that participated in Skokie's first Festival of Cultures. Check them out while on a stroll and celebrate the 30th Anniversary of Festival of Cultures.
- You used to be able to get somewhere swift by stopping at this building. Don't let its old prairie style façade fool you, it's modern inside, and you're now more likely to grab a sip than take a trip.

- ❑ This relic from the 1933 Chicago World's Fair flies high as a symbol of our country, near a place of higher learning. Also, is a remnant of the former home of the Niles East Trojans.
- ❑ This is so neat, and it's under your feet when you walk down the street at 7800 Lincoln Ave. This piece of footwear commemorates the store that used to be there. Take a peek and compare your footwear to this.
- ❑ Our community is filled with many different cultures, but let us not forget those that were here before us. On the north side of town, near a playground, growing from the ground this wooden guide represents the Skokie area's first residents.
- ❑ Whether lit at night or in plain sight, find the inspiration for the Skokie Public Library's current logo.
- ❑ Take a walk with your favorite four-legged friend toward this historic spot and pose with our favorite spotted pooch in front of Skokie's first public building. One-time home to Skokie's Fire Department and the Village Hall.
- ❑ Find this inspirational, peaceful leader who helped gain independence for his country and celebrate that independence and the cultural heritage of many Skokie residents.
