SNOWSHOEING ages 6 & up
Get out and actively enjoy the wonders of winter! With a snow base of four inches or more, snowshoes are available to use on-site for a $4-$5 hourly rental fee (or bring your own).

service projects

Emily Oaks is the perfect local natural area for a group volunteer work day or an independent Eagle Scout project! Opportunities include planting shrubs, improving trails, maintaining picnic tables, constructing fences and helping with land restoration.

seasonal special events

Learn and play at an Emily Oaks event! Celebrate each season with casual fun and fellowship. Per-person admission fee may apply. For all ages.

APRIL Earth Day Celebration
Participate in themed games and activities, eat wholesome food, and purchase native plants.

JULY Pancake Breakfast in the Woods
Take a walk on the trails, and then get your fill of delicious pancakes in the great outdoors.

OCTOBER Things That Go Bump in the Night
Watch costumed characters tell about local plants and animals in a fun and non-frightening way! Conclude with campfire snacks and songs.

FEBRUARY Winter Chilly Fest
Enjoy outdoor ice skating (weather permitting) and winter fun and games under the stars, as well as a cozy chili dinner indoors.

You're invited to create Winter Treats for local wildlife!

plan your visit

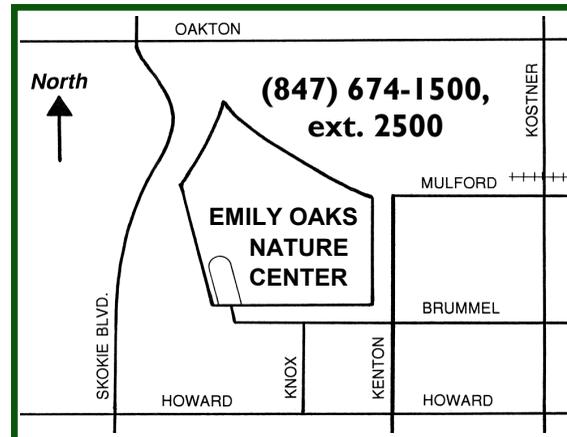

Reservations are required for all groups. Please make reservations as early as possible, but no later than one week in advance of the desired activity date. Campout dates are limited; registration opens at noon at the beginning of each season (August 15th and March 15th).

To schedule an activity, call Emily Oaks Nature Center at
(847) 674-1500, ext. 2500.

See individual activity listings for fees. Minimum fees are calculated by multiplying the minimum number of participants by the per-child fee. Residency is based on the location where the group regularly meets.

Please note that when activities take place outdoors, alternative indoor activities may not be available in the event of rain or inclement weather. We will do our best to reschedule your visit should you need to cancel.
