

Holi: Festival of Colours

28th Annual Skokie Festival of Cultures, Oakton Park, Skokie

Free at the Main Stage, Saturday, May 19, 2018, 5-7 p.m.

“Holi: Festival of Colours” is a spring festival celebrated across the Indian subcontinent as well as internationally, signifying the arrival of spring, and for many, a festive day to meet others, play and laugh, and to repair broken relationships.

- Food available for purchase • Live Dhol • Bollywood music
- Free Holi t-shirts to the first 350 participants
- Colors provided at the event, no outside colors allowed, additional colors available for purchase.

The Skokie Festival of Cultures’ Indian cultural performances will take the main stage at 5 p.m. Holi will begin at 6 p.m., at which time attendees who choose to participate will throw powdered colors in the air or playfully smear them on others. Anyone and everyone within the Holi designated boundaries is fair game, friend or stranger, rich or poor, man or woman, children and elders!

Holi: Festival of Colours is brought to you by the Diversity Advisory Committee of the Skokie Park District Board of Commissioners and the 28th Annual Skokie Festival of Cultures (May 19 & 20, 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. at Oakton Park).
